Faroe Islands. Executive Meeting

– Off the beaten track

To outperform in business you sometimes need to do things differently. Go to a remote place off the beaten track with your executive team. Yet, not too inaccessible. The remote and very understated Faroe Islands, whose unspoiled and raw-natured environment coupled spectacular wildlife, offer an unforgettable experience.

The small village of Gjógv is in the most picturesque surroundings, far away from the treadmill of everyday life. The perfect setting for your next executive meeting, where you will have the peace and quiet to discuss future strategies and to unleash a number of new business ideas.

Included:

- 2 nights in 2-star Gjáargarður with a 5-star charm
- Culinary teambuilding with local chef
- Meetovation trained coordinator
- Adventurous teambuilding activities
- Visit a Faroese family

DAY 1

Arrival and transfer to location. Drive towards the village of Eiði on the island of Eysturoy, where the impressive rock formations the Giant and the Witch lie in the sea along the coast. Continue up the road and pass the highest mountain in the Faroes, Slættaratindur (882 m). Drive through an area, where you truly can see the geology of the Faroese deep fjords and valleys, before arriving to the northern most village on Eysturoy, Gjógv.

DAY 2

Half day meeting at charming Gjáargarður. Greengate Incoming as well as staff at Gjáargarður are trained Meetovators and will be able to assist in getting as much as possible out of your meeting. Ideas such as a walk&talk and small café meetings in the village, as well as having a fresh footbath in the river next to the venue is an energizer. Afternoon activities in the natural gorge in Gjógv, where there are a lot of teambuilding activities possible in the crystal clear ocean. In the evening a local chef will assist the delegates with a meal as a team-building experience

DAY 3

Half day outdoor meeting – be inspired by the nature. Visit a faroese family at their private home with an impressive garden in the village of Söldarfjørður, where lunch will be served. In the afternoon transfer to the airport and departure.

Greengate is one of the Faroe Islands leading DMCs in the conference, meetings and incentive market. The company is managed by a team of well educated professionals with years of experience in the industry.
